REBELS CLOSING IN ON CITY OF JUAREZ

BIG OFFER MADE BY S. P.

Company Will Pave Street and Pay $5000 Yearly for the Franchise

Elliot Shown Up as a Petty Obstructionist During the Discussion

As leader of the four city councilmen who have blocked the granting of a franchise to the Southern Pacific railroad in Seventh street, Councilman Albert H. Elliot was forced to show his hand when pinned down to a definite plan by Councilman A. P. Stiefvater, and the whole program of the last few weeks was exposed as one of unqualified obstructionist tactics.

Councilman Stiefvater arraigned the four at the bar of commonsense and after analyzing the situation branded the motive behind the opposition to the Southern Pacific as having its source in "a gubernatorial campaign in which oratory was directed against the Southern Pacific Company." He declared that the opposition originally rested in one man, that it was not in any measure echoed by the people, and questioned the attitude which had resulted in the strenuous opposition to the Southern Pacific Company at this particular time.

Stiefvater's tilt with Elliot arose out of a new attempt to induce the four councilmen who have blocked the Seventh street grant to discontinue mere policy of obstruction and advance some definite, conservative basis of agreement. The matter came up in the form of an informal discussion of a proposition made for the Southern Pacific by Jere Z. Burke, attorney for the company, at last night's meeting.

HALTED PROCEEDINGS. This halted all proceedings and the matter was not reopened until last night, when the railroad presented a new proposition. Attorney Burke said:

"When I last appeared before this council it was with a request that the matter go over because we had discovered a mistake in the figures presented. It was afterwards found that the mistake was not so serious, but in the meantime we had been sent from a head office in the East that the proposed profit sharing plan would not be approved, which decision was transmitted to you by Mr. Burke. At that time we were necessary to attempt anew to reach an agreement."

"The railroad still desires if possible to gain a franchise in Seventh street. It is highly desirable that it should be the same team as the water front franchise. To gain this franchise we are willing to do several things. We will pave Seventh street at a cost to us that will require $10,000 a year for fifty years to amortize. We will waive all right and title held by the railroad in Seventh street rights which are at present the same as those of the city; and we will pay an annual flat rental of $5,000 a year."

EXCEEDS CHARTER DEMAND. "We submit that about a mile practically giving you this for a mile of franchise right between Fallon and Market streets. The fixed rental we offer is

LORD DECIES AND MISS VIVIEN GOULD MARRIED AMID GREATEST SPLENDOR

Bride and groom, bridesmaids and some of those connected with today's society event, uniting an English title and American money.

Thousands Surround Church; Fight for Sight of Bride

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Society from both sides of the Atlantic gathered in force in New York today to attend the nuptials of Vivian Gould, daughter of George Gould, and Lord Decies, British nobleman and army officer, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church. The holders of 2000 invitations crowded the interior to overflowing, and preparations made to handle thousands of curious outsiders were inadequate.

The church itself was full of the perfume of rare flowers in vase and chandelier, green and white was the color scheme. The style and texture of the bride's wedding gown and the gowns of her attendants were not made public until the church doors were thrown open.

SISTER, MAID OF HONOR. Miss Edith Gould, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Hope Hamilton, Annie Douglas, Emma Holmes, Hannah Randolph of Philadelphia, Louise Cromwell of Washington, and Alizon White of Oyster Bay. The two little nephews of the bridegroom, Marcus and Graham Beresford, as pages, carried the train of the bride's gown.

That there would be no repetition of the scenes of the wedding of Miss Margaret Gould and Anthony Drexel, Jr., last year, when the hundreds of curiously seekers almost mobbed the bride couple, George J. Gould arranged for ample police protection.

Lord Decies has received many threatening letters which the English peer, however, takes as a joke. Hundreds of police and plain clothes men were detailed to keep the crowd of sightseers from the church and Gould home and prevent any unfortunate incident.

After them came little Miss Edith Gould, who was her sister's maid of honor, and following her the bride and her father.

Since early this morning groups had been taking up advantageous sightseeing positions near the church, lamp posts, horse car stops and raised places on steps near St. Bartholomew's church were filled with youths and men who were only to make room for others who filled the places when the police bled them in blocking the oncoming tide of humanity.

PENETRATE TO POISONER'S PAST

Prosecution Proves Pantchenko Peddled Nostrums on a Russian Railway.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 7.—During the past of Dr. Pantchenko today the prosecution developed that he was once an employee on the Northwestern Railway, having received his appointment on the recommendation of Count Witte. Fellow employees testified that he neglected his duties to peddle nostrums, and that he was deprived of the regularity of attendance upon his duties. Pantchenko explained that he was frequently incapacitated, being a sufferer from kidney disease. Under examination he fooled the head physician of the road into believing that the disease had reached an advanced stage but when he was advised to go to a hospital at once, the alleged poisoner suggested that it would be more convenient for him and quite as well if some one else was sent to the infirmary under his name.

Pantchenko was asked today to explain his deception, but the prosecutor failed to get much from him.

Woman Is Frightened Insane by a Burglar

Barefooted and Almost Nude She and Children Tramp 3 Miles In Snow.

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 7.—Creased by fright caused by the efforts of a burglar to break into her home seven miles from Coeur d'Alene, Mrs. Charles Russ, a farmer's wife, appeared at a neighbor's house Sunday morning barefooted and violently insane.

With her were three little children with feet frozen by tramping three miles over the snow without shoes or stockings. The deranged woman was committed to an asylum.

SECOND ACT IN TRAGEDY STAGED

Coroner's Jury Will Determine the Cause of Gustave Postler's Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Exciting more interest than any inquest since the famous investigation into the death of Morris Heas, assassin of Francis J. Heney, the special prosecutor of graft cases, the inquiry into the circumstances leading up to the death of Gustave Postler was begun before Coroner William Walsh this morning.

The small inquest room was crowded with a throng of spectators and a score of witnesses were in attendance. Assistant District Attorney W. J. Castleman was present as the representative of District Attorney Fickler, a delegation from the grand jury was in attendance, and Attorney F. J. Castleman was present as the

ROBERTS IS ARMY ONLY HANDED A PLUM 2 MILES AWAY

San Bernardino Man Steps Into State Treasurer's Office at Sacramento

Governor Receives Message From Roosevelt Announcing His State Itinerary

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7.—Governor Johnson today announced the appointment of Edward Davis Roberts of San Bernardino to be state treasurer, also W. R. Whitman yesterday appointed superintendent of banks. Both men will assume their new offices in about a week.

Mr. Roberts is president of the San Bernardino National Bank and is interested in several other banks and business enterprises. He has lived in San Bernardino county for about twenty-five years, and for some years has interested himself actively in that form of political activity which eventually crystallized into the Lincoln-Roosevelt League. He is 41 years old.

GOVERNOR'S ESTIMATE OF MAN. "Mr. Roberts is one of the big men of the south," said the Governor in connection with the appointment. "I think that even from those who have opposed him in the past he receives the fullest respect. I regard myself and the state as fortunate in securing his services."

A telegram from Colonel Roosevelt's secretary, received by Governor Johnson today, announces that the Colonel will arrive in Los Angeles at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, March 21, on his western trip, leaving for San Francisco at 5 a. m. Wednesday. He will deliver a series of six lectures at the University of California and it is expected he will speak before the Throop scientific school at Los Angeles.

"If the legislature is still in session I shall invite Colonel Roosevelt to address the Governor," said the Governor. "I have considered it unlikely that the legislature will be in session at that time, but I really don't know about it."

JOHNSON WILL INVESTIGATE. General belief here has been that the session would not terminate before April 1st.

Whether or not San Francisco gets four additional judges of the Superior Court in accordance with the provisions of a bill passed by both houses depends, the Governor announced today, upon the results of an investigation he is now making.

Threatened City Expects to Be Attacked Now at Any Hour

Harry Harkness, the Birdman, Carries First Aerial War Message

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 7.—At 3:10 the insurgents on the hills fired the first shot at Mexican regulars in the river bed. There was no reply.

Several other shots followed from the insurgent ranks and the federals began retreating.

EL PASO, Feb. 7.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon a big band of insurgents rode out of the mountains to the river, opposite here between El Paso and the El Paso smelter on the Mexican side, less than two miles north of Juarez. They are watering their horses. The hills to their rear seem full of men. They came from the west and have completely circled Juarez since leaving Robago on Sunday.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManis, commander at Fort Rosecrans, to Lieutenant Ruhlin, commanding the United States troops now camped on the American side of the border at the Mexican town of Juarez, an aviator, made a light in an Antoinette monoplane this morning, delivering the message and returning to his hangar on North Island opposite this city and close to Fort Rosecrans, in 55 minutes.

Harkness flew over the camp of the United States soldiers at a height of about 100 feet, and dropped the message, which was weighed, among the tents of the soldiers.

EL PASO OVER SHIPS. He circled long enough to see the message delivered to Major Ruhlin, and then returned, and after passing over the cruisers now anchored in the harbor landed in front of his hangar.

This is the first time the Antoinette has been used in actual military operations. The United States, and doubtless the flight was the most remarkable ever made by an amateur in the United States.

For the greatest part Harkness was over the ocean or the bay of San Pedro. His machine worked perfectly, and the flight was made without accident or delay of any sort.

REBELS NEAR JUAREZ. EL PASO, Feb. 7.—The revolutionary forces under Pascual Orozco are at the Flores Ranch, about fifteen miles south-east of Juarez, this morning, awaiting reinforcements. It is reported that the Mexican government has ordered the National army to attack the Flores Ranch, which has been held by the rebels since last night.

Man Rolls Down Telegraph Hill and Is Badly Injured

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Rolling down at a terrific speed along the precipitous cliffs of Telegraph Hill, a man believed to be Harry Edwards, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured this morning when, picked up and taken to the Harbor Hospital, it was found that the entire body was a mass of bruises and that he was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull. He evidently stumbled at the brink of the chasm.

LONG AND USEFUL LIVES COME TO THEIR PEACEFUL CLOSING

DEATH CALLS PIONEER COUPLE

J. F. W. Sohst and Wife Expire Within Few Hours of Each Other.

Well Known Citizen of Oakland and His Spouse Enter Into Rest.

The death of that highly respected pioneer citizen of Oakland, J. F. W. Sohst, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home on Telegraph avenue, and of his devoted wife less than three hours later in the hospital where she had submitted to an operation for the removal of an internal trouble in the vain hope of prolonging her life, constitutes one of the most pathetic incidents that has ever occurred in this city. And the double affliction has naturally the deepest sympathy of the community in which they were widely known and honored.

Mr. Sohst had been confined to his home by sickness and the infirmities of old age for many months past, and Mrs. Sohst had been in poor health for a year or more.

WELL BELOVED COUPLE.

The couple were among the best known and best beloved of the German-American colony in Oakland. Mr. Sohst was, moreover, one of Oakland's most active, progressive and influential citizens. This fact was demonstrated by his election in 1875 to a seat in the city council and his reelection two years later to serve a second term. And his services as a member of that body were marked by his devotion to the advancement of the best interests of the city as it then existed.

BORN IN GERMANY.

John Frederick William Sohst was born in the town of Warin, Hecklenburg-Schwerin, August 28, 1835. He was then nearly 16 years of age at the time of death. There he received a common school education. At the age of fourteen he entered his father's blacksmith shop to learn the trade, meantime attending night school for educational improvement. Three years later he moved to New Brunswick, where he worked at his trade for a year. He then decided to try his fortune in the New World, and sailed from Hamburg for New York May 1, 1854, in the ship Oregon, arriving there June 22.

FOR THE WEST.

He remained in the metropolis, however, only two weeks and struck out for the west, making a brief visit at Toledo, and then taking passage on a canal boat for Cincinnati.

He found employment at New Bremen, in Angalia county, and there he remained eight months, passing sadly through a cholera epidemic which broke out during that period. From New Bremen he went to Kentucky.

STARTS FOR CALIFORNIA.

In February, 1857, he again moved to Republic, Seneca county, where he found employment in a carriage and wagon-making shop and obtained that experience which afterward shaped his business career. Subsequently he helped Putnam county, where he formed a partnership with John Denis and carried on the business of carriage manufacturing and blacksmithing under the firm name of Denis & Sohst.

TO PAY NEW YORK TAXES SEMI-ANNUALLY

New York, Feb. 7. — Comptroller Prentiss will recommend to the New York Board of Estimates a plan for collecting the city's taxes twice a year instead of annually as at present. He believes that the scheme could be adopted advantageously by all American municipalities. The plan is designed to make tax payments smaller, thus lightening the burden on property owners and tending to decrease delinquencies. It also will save the city a considerable sum in interest on short term loans and will lighten the strain on New York banking interests at a critical period of the year.

POSTLER JURY TO DETERMINE CAUSE

Second Act in Gambling House Tragedy Is Staged in San Francisco.

Legal advisor of Mrs. Postler, the grief-stricken widow of the deceased, said that the jury will determine the cause of the death of the woman who was beaten to death in the Saratoga club, 143 Mason street, ran in open defiance of the law.

All the circumstances surrounding the dramatic attempt to hold up the train were gone over by the jury. In addition Autopsy Surgeon Glover described the nature of the wound which ended Postler's life.

The story of the circumstances of the death of the woman who was beaten to death in the Saratoga club, 143 Mason street, ran in open defiance of the law.

Postler had lost money, gambling in the Saratoga and other clubs. He had mortgaged all he owned, and on the day of his death planned to recoup some of his losses in a game of chance.

Three of his victims, including Kripp, climbed down the fire escape. The latter persuaded Sergeant McDonough to give him his revolver and returning, engaged in a pistol duel with Postler, while the other gamblers crouched in an adjoining room.

Postler lay dead on the floor, and the gamblers were charged with neglect of duty and other offenses for allowing the gambling to continue.

SON TELLS STORY.

In careful fashion, weighing delicately his every word, little Paul Postler, the untimely death of whose father, Gustave Postler, has made him head of a family of seven, told of the circumstances surrounding the tragic death of his parent.

Dr. J. W. Butcher, C. A. Clinch and W. E. Wynne told of finding a bullet in the chest of the woman who was beaten to death in the Saratoga club, 143 Mason street, ran in open defiance of the law.

WIDOW WEPT SILENTLY.

Mrs. Postler, sometimes weeping silently, was a close and attentive listener during the proceedings.

Just prior to the noon adjournment four of the gamblers arrested at the time of Postler's death were called to testify. All refused to give any evidence on the ground that their statements might tend to incriminate them.

A resolution determining the necessity of a bond election for a municipal auditorium to be situated on the shores of Lake Merritt at Oak street near the present municipal museum, and to cost $2,493,900, was passed by the city council last night under a suspension of the rules. Plans drawn by Walter D. Reed for the structure and approved by the special committee, consisting of Councilmen Cobbledick, Stachler and Barcus, and the Chamber of Commerce, it is to be erected on the land purchased from Edson Adams out of the regular tax levy some time ago.

The auditorium is to provide a convention hall to seat 10,000, which can be converted into an arena for horse shows or other displays, or into a theater for grand opera and plays, with a seating capacity of 750 persons.

BANQUET HALL. It also provides for a banquet hall for 2000 plates. In the proposition is provided the possibility of combining the auditorium with a lake boat house and casino.

Resolutions determining the necessity of calling a bond election for the bonding of the city of Oakland for municipal and high schools, and also, amounting to $2,493,900, were also passed by the council.

This was in accordance with the recommendations of the special committee consisting of Councilmen Ellsworth, Cobbledick and Vose, which has been in conference for some weeks with the board of education, and also of the committee of the whole.

This action was in the regular order of business, and it will not be until the next meeting that the date for this election may be fixed.

PARDON SOUGHT FOR IMPRISONED CASHIER

SANTA ROSA, Feb. 7.—Friends of Edward S. Rowland, the bank cashier who is serving a sentence of six years in San Quentin, are working hard to secure a pardon for him. Rowland was convicted before Judge Emmet Sewall on an indictment by the grand jury. He had appropriated $125,000 of the money of the Bank of Italy, and lost the money in unfortunate stock speculations in Nevada. The directors of the bank made good every cent to the depositors, and then charged the loss. Rowland's need father gave over property worth more than $60,000 to assist in paying the depositors. Influence is being exerted by the grand jury, who presided at the trial, and an District Attorney Clarence D. Lee, who prosecuted the case.

No Appetite

"I took Hood's Sarsaparilla when I was a very sick woman, had no appetite whatever, and could not sleep more than three hours a night. I was persuaded by a friend to try it. TRUANT ELLIOT WAS AT THE COUNCIL MEETING

Member Favoring Annexation of Oakland to San Francisco Is Almost a Stranger

In the face of the recommendation of the auditing and finance committee, of which he is chairman, and of the endorsement of Mayor Frank K. Mott and City Expert Accountant L. G. Jordan, Councilman A. H. Elliot again protested against the payment of a claim for services rendered the city by Attorney W. R. Davis. The bill, amounting to $1500, and covering services during four years in waterfront litigation and conferences, was passed over Elliot's head.

Councilman Harold Everhart also opposed the bill, voting with Elliot against it.

EVERHART'S PINWHEEL.

"I want to say that there are other ways of looting the treasury," said Everhart, "than breaking into the safe deposit vaults. There are other ways of breaking into the safe."

He voted against appropriating money to pay this bill.

"That is a wholly ridiculous and unjustifiable statement," answered President E. H. Pendleton. "Attorney Davis is an honorable man. This bill is a bill for services of a most important and necessary nature rendered this city. It has been regularly and rightly approved, and I want to vote most emphatically aye on it."

"These gentlemen have had an opportunity of investigating the justice of this demand and should have satisfied themselves that it is all right."

CLAIMS WERE PAID.

On the recommendation of the auditing and finance committee five claims for labor on Eighth street dam and Twelfth street dam, drawn on the public betterment fund, were ordered paid.

Green claims for labor at the old city hall and city hall annex, drawn on the general fund, were ordered paid.

One dollar over-payment on electrical permit was ordered refunded.

The following ordinances were passed to print, viz:

Providing for payment of $1500 to William R. Davis.

Fixing the salaries of the clerk of the board of public works, city wharfinger and machinist.

Increasing the fire department of the city of Oakland by the appointment of additional foreman, engineer, etc.

Appropriating $1600 for shop equipment for the fire alarm and police telegraph department.

SHOE PRICES GOING UP; TANNERS GIVE ORDERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—A conference was held in Chicago yesterday which may presage a higher price for shoes, because of the tannery strike. The tanners' national association and the shoe makers' association met to discuss the situation.

Recently the tanners announced that the sale terms whereby shoemakers got 5 per cent off on four months payments would be cut to 2 per cent. The shoemakers, claiming this would cut their profits nearly half, sought a conference to re-establish the old rate, but the leather makers refused.

Notions were sent out yesterday to shoemakers to refuse to buy leather from those who would not sell at the old rate. Cautelment of output will be the first official of the conference yesterday.

After that, if it falls an application for federal action will be sought.

SON OF A. B. HAMMOND DIES IN ARIZONA

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Word was received here yesterday of the death in Tucson, Ariz., of Richard Hammond, son of A. B. Hammond, the millionaire lumber and railroad man.

Young Hammond, who was a member of the Hammond Lumber Company, married Julia Langhorne, sister of Julia Langhorne, about three years ago, the wedding being one of the most distinctive that interested members of the city.

His death was due to tuberculosis, which was due to tuberculosis.

His body is to be brought to San Francisco for burial.

RESULTS OF FOOD.

Health and Natural Conditions Come from Right Feeding.

Man, physically, should be like a perfectly regulated machine, each part working easily in its appropriate place. A slight derangement causes undue friction and wear, and frequently ruins the entire system.

A well-known educator of Boston found a way to keep the brain and the body in that harmonious co-operation which makes a joy of living.

"Two years ago," she writes "being in a condition of nervous exhaustion, I resigned my position as teacher, which I had held for over 40 years. Since then, my food assimilates, and my bowels take care of themselves. I find my brain power and physical endurance much greater and I know that the use of the Grape-Nuts has contributed largely to this result."

"It is with feelings of gratitude that I write this testimonial, and trust it may be the means of aiding others in the same genuine, true, and full of human interest."

ELMHURST IS URGED

City Engineer Fred C. Turner Asks Council to Relieve Flood Situation.

STORM SEWER NEEDED TO PROTECT PROPERTY

Proposed Outlet to Be Erected Jointly by Municipality and Interested Residents.

Recommendations for the alleviation of flood conditions in Elmhurst by the construction of a $20,000 storm sewer, part of the cost of which will be paid by interested property owners, have been filed with the city council by City Engineer Fred C. Turner. The recommendations are drawn up on the basis of a report submitted by his assistant, Walter Fickel, showing an investigation of the flood conditions. The recommendations follow:

"The Honorable the City Council, Oakland, Cal.

"Gentlemen: In compliance with your resolution No. 7495 I have given careful attention to the drainage situation on Stanley avenue, Elmhurst, and the surrounding district.

It appears that a large area, nearly a square mile in extent, situated in the hills northeast of the Fruitvale avenue and Stanley road, feeds a creek that crosses Fruitvale boulevard near Dutton avenue and runs thence westerly toward the Broadway tract, through that tract, through Iveywood, Iveywood extension, and thence to East Fourteenth street at Elmhurst. The creek rises in Oakland, passes into San Leandro at the boulevard and into Oakland again at Stanley avenue and runs thence westerly toward Stanley road and Elmhurst.

It is noted that this creek, about which complaint has been made, occurs along the entire length from Fruitvale avenue westerly. Stanley avenue was flooded except a narrow strip at the corner of the road, this being two feet above the surface. This intersection of Stanley avenue and East Fourteenth street was flooded, and early in the morning the water poured across the latter street, flooding from the latter street, and a barricade of sacks filled with earth.

WATER IN TORRENTS.

The water was running in torrents along the northeast side of East Fourteenth street, from Stanley avenue to the "elbow" near the car barns at Elmhurst, flooding all the crossings and many of the sidewalks, and preventing access to the crossings and crossings. I am informed that at times the car barns have been flooded and conditions have been worse than this during the late storm, all of which would have happened on the 14th of this month had the storm ended. The flooding from Stanley avenue to the southwest of East Fourteenth street, but not so bad as that there was considerable inconvenience, if not damage, to that district.

The remedy for these conditions is clearly to divert the creek at or near the Fruitvale boulevard into San Leandro creek. In fact, but for the diversion of the creek into San Leandro creek, the flooding of the creek would naturally divert itself to San Leandro creek near that point. The estimated cost of constructing a storm sewer along Fruitvale boulevard, 2917 feet in length, to the creek is $28,500. Provided rights of way could be secured, other routes for the storm sewer would cost from $15,000 to $18,500; the former, however, lies within the town of San Leandro and would not protect as much territory as the other routes, and in either case the cost of right of way is problematical.

ABANDONS CHANNEL IDEA.

In presenting this solution of the difficult, which solution is the one commonly suggested by the residents of Elmhurst, Broadmoor and the surrounding district, I might add that I have considered and rejected the possibility of providing an adequate channel along the present creek. That this would involve the use of a strip of land at least forty feet wide throughout the length of the channel, a total of approximately 1,000 feet, and a constant annual expense for cleaning the channel prior to winter rains. All this would be more expensive and less effective than the suggested diversion.

I am informed that some of the interested property owners are anxious to subscribe a portion of the cost of this work, and will report the result of their efforts at a later date.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED C. TURNER, City Engineer.

CHILD TELLS A STARTLING STORY

Sought Escape From Abductors in Confessional of a Brooklyn Church

Found Cowering in Sanctuary at Midnight by Priest in Charge.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—An 11-year-old girl's story of her escape from kidnappers by hiding behind the curtains of the confessional in a Brooklyn Catholic church, started New York detectives on a hunt for the gang of Italian who are believed to have tried to abduct her.

The girl, Marie Coleman, is the daughter of a Brooklyn manufacturer. She was found in one of the confessionals of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church shortly before midnight by the pastor, the Rev. Father Wm. McGuire.

Between hysterical sobs, the little girl told the priest that she had hidden in the confessional at 6 o'clock in the evening, after having run away from two men who had tried to kidnap her and that she had not dared to come out of her place of refuge.

ENTICED TO SUBURBS.

After Father McGuire had quieted the little girl, she told a very clear story of how, when she had come out of school, a man had lured her to a distant section by telling her that her mother was ill and in a strange house. Subsequently this man had been joined by another and they had taken Marie over a route which she remembers so perfectly that the police believe they can locate the place.

The men stopped at a yellow house, but before she was inside the door Marie became suspicious. She ran screaming down the street, and although the pair caught her and started back with her, she struggled loose again and ran several blocks to the church. With the men close behind, she dodged in through the open door and hid in the darkened interior.

DISCOVERED BY CHANCE.

The priest's discovery of the hidden girl was by accident. At 10 o'clock Father McGuire entered the dark church alone to pray. During the course of his devotions he thought he heard sobbing. He made a casual search of the church, but found nothing and went back to the rectory.

But after he went to bed he could not sleep. The conviction that somebody in distress was locked in the church, persisted and he arose about midnight and dressed himself. A second time he went into the church.

After some minutes spent in search, he pushed aside the curtains of the confessional and there in the dim light cast by the lantern saw a little girl lying with her head on a bundle of school books. She was dazed and apparently unconscious. The priest took her into the rectory and after he had comforted her to some extent, got her story and reported it to the police.

New University Oaks, Aristocratic Piedmont, and Beauty of Berkeley Hills.

The stage employees who belong to the first district of the International Theater and Stage Employees of the United States and Canada, who are now holding a convention in this city, took an automobile ride about Oakland and its environs yesterday afternoon. There were about fifty of the delegates, practically all who are present at the convention, who filled to overflowing the numerous automobiles which had been provided for their pleasure.

The route took them to Berkeley, where they viewed the Greek Theater and the other university buildings, to the hills which rise back of the city, to the aristocratic environs of Piedmont. They also went out the boulevard past San Leandro and Melrose for some distance. Every one expressed themselves as being delighted with the beauty of the hills and the harbor, which is spread before them at the entrance to Oakland, and all were enjoying the time of their lives in this city.

The convention will hold a banquet tonight at the Palace of the United States to make the week's ride with jollity and song cheer. All the delegates will be present to the number of fifty or sixty and a number of toasts will be responded to in the course of the evening.

Dr. Burke to Spend Ten Years in San Quentin

SANTA ROSA, Feb. 7.—Dr. Willard P. Burke, proprietor of Burke's sanitarium, who was found guilty of dynamiting an inhabited dwelling, was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in San Quentin penitentiary by Judge Seawell yesterday. He stood before the judge, trembling and nervous, and mumbled dispiringly on being asked whether he had anything to say before sentence should be passed upon him. As Judge Seawell closed speaking the aged physician sank back in his seat. Tears came to his eyes and he rested his head in his hands. His attorneys fought for him to the last, but their claims for a new trial were disregarded by the court.

Benton at every point, all that remained for his attorneys was to give notice of an appeal, but there is considerable doubt whether this will be taken. Dr. Burke, from the time of his conviction, seems with a higher court and that the best thing under the circumstances would be to meet his fate as philosophically as possible.

Dr. Burke has announced, later, that he will appeal from the verdict of the jury.

ARREST SUSPECT IN DRUGGING CASE

A negro suspected of having been implicated in the drugging of C. M. Moller, a salesman in the employ of the jewelry firm of Herbert E. Kincaid, who was found unconscious in the street last night by Mrs. Florence Langworthy, was taken into custody this morning and will be held pending an investigation by Captain of Detectives Walter J. Peterson. The name of the suspect, it is thought that more arrests will follow the investigation.

Moller was taken to the hospital last night suffering from cholera poisoning, after being found lying unconscious in the street by Mrs. Florence Langworthy of Thirteenth and West streets.

He recovered after being given medical attendance and told of being drugged and robbed of money and jewelry valued at about $800. According to Dr. W. H. Brown, who attended him, he was given a large dose of chloral, probably in medicated wine.

MISSING FOR DAY.

Moller, when he was found, had been missing for a day. He told incoherently of visiting a place in West Oakland to sell jewelry, of being invited into the house by a negro woman who desired to look over the stock of jewelry. He was invited, he said, to take a glass of wine and then what he could not recall. He said that he would spoil a sale, he drank with her. He remembers nothing after that.

Moller's employers, and his family, do not like to be subjected to the liquor habit. He resides at 1715 Hearst avenue, Berkeley. The police are trying to locate the place in which he was drugged.

After a little more than a week of controversy the strike instituted by the old union has been settled and both the dealers and the strikers are pursuing their own interests.

The old union still continues to deliver milk while the association has about reorganized its deliveries on the new scale and will be getting the same service they enjoyed before the strike was decided.

TAG DAY FOR A COLORED SCHOOL

Sales Will Be Made on Oakland Streets by Busy Corps of Workers.

The National Industrial and Orphan's school of Beulah Heights, the only institution on the Pacific coast devoted to the thorough and practical training of colored girls and young women for efficient domestic service, conducts its Abraham Lincoln memorial tag day on the thoroughfares and in the business centers of Oakland, Saturday, February 11, 1911.

The school was established last September by Rev. C. W. Lusk and his wife. There are several girls now in the school taking the courses which give practical and thorough preparation for all the branches of domestic service. An efficient and capable instructor has charge of each department and there is also an instructor to teach the girls who are found lacking in the common school branches.

The girls, almost without exception are whole or half orphans, but above the age that allows state assistance to such children; yet they are without any means, so the burden of caring for them is laid upon the shoulders of the girls who are trained to go out and acceptably and intelligently fill places with the housekeepers who are to employ them. Falls upon the efforts of the school to help the girls in this way without the aid of the generous inclined.

BERKELEY COUNCIL ROUTINE BUSINESS

Oakland Firm Gets Contract for Paving Euclid Street

BERKELEY, Feb. 7.—An echo of ancient protests against the city's extensive work of whitening and improving Claremont avenue, from Russell street south to the Oakland line, was heard in the city council this morning when Attorney George W. Cox, A. Kleinschmidt and J. Hotchkiss, residing near the upper end of Claremont avenue, and Mrs. R. P. Torrey, appeared before the council and objected principally to the proposed removal of some fine specimens of shade trees on the northern side of the street and to the expense involved in the assessment. A further hearing will take place February 11, at 10:30 a. m.

The contract for the paving of Euclid street, between Spruce and Walnut streets, was awarded today to the Oakland Paving Company for $5,339.30.

The billboard and license ordinance was given final passage and will become effective at the end of thirty days.

Miss E. A. Stanford sent a letter to the council today announcing that she would accept the place of moving picture censor.

CAREY IS GIVEN FINAL DECREE OF DIVORCE

Superior Judge John Ellsworth this forenoon granted a final decree of divorce to James A. Carey, publisher of a San Francisco insurance journal, from Marie Porter Pitts Carey, once a well known newspaper writer and poet in this section, on statutory grounds. Mrs. Carey formerly resided in Berkeley but is now living in Los Angeles. About a year ago Mrs. Carey filed her suit for a divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty and failure to provide. Carey filed a counter suit, accusing his wife of criminal intimacy with a San Francisco advertising man, who had a wife and family in Pacific Grove.

When the details of Carey's cross-complaint became public the wife of the alleged lover of Mrs. Carey sued for a divorce and secured an interlocutory decree and the custody of her children. Then Mrs. Carey abandoned her suit and went with her mother to Los Angeles, leaving the way clear for Carey to get the interlocutory decree without opposition.

YOUNG BOY NOT VERY ANXIOUS FOR MOTHER

Little Jimmie Hildebrand, who was reported yesterday as having lost his mother somehow in the course of a journey between this city and the hamlet of Weed, in Humboldt county, evidently isn't very anxious to find her, for he refused to pack his grip and take a journey to San Francisco last night to be placed in the care of the Boys' and Girls' society as a preliminary step to locating in some place where it would be easy for her to seek him out.

OAKLAND DECLARES WAR ON CONSOLIDATION PLAN

AT BIG MASS MEETING TAXPAYERS DENOUNCE THE SCHEME OF SAN FRANCISCO

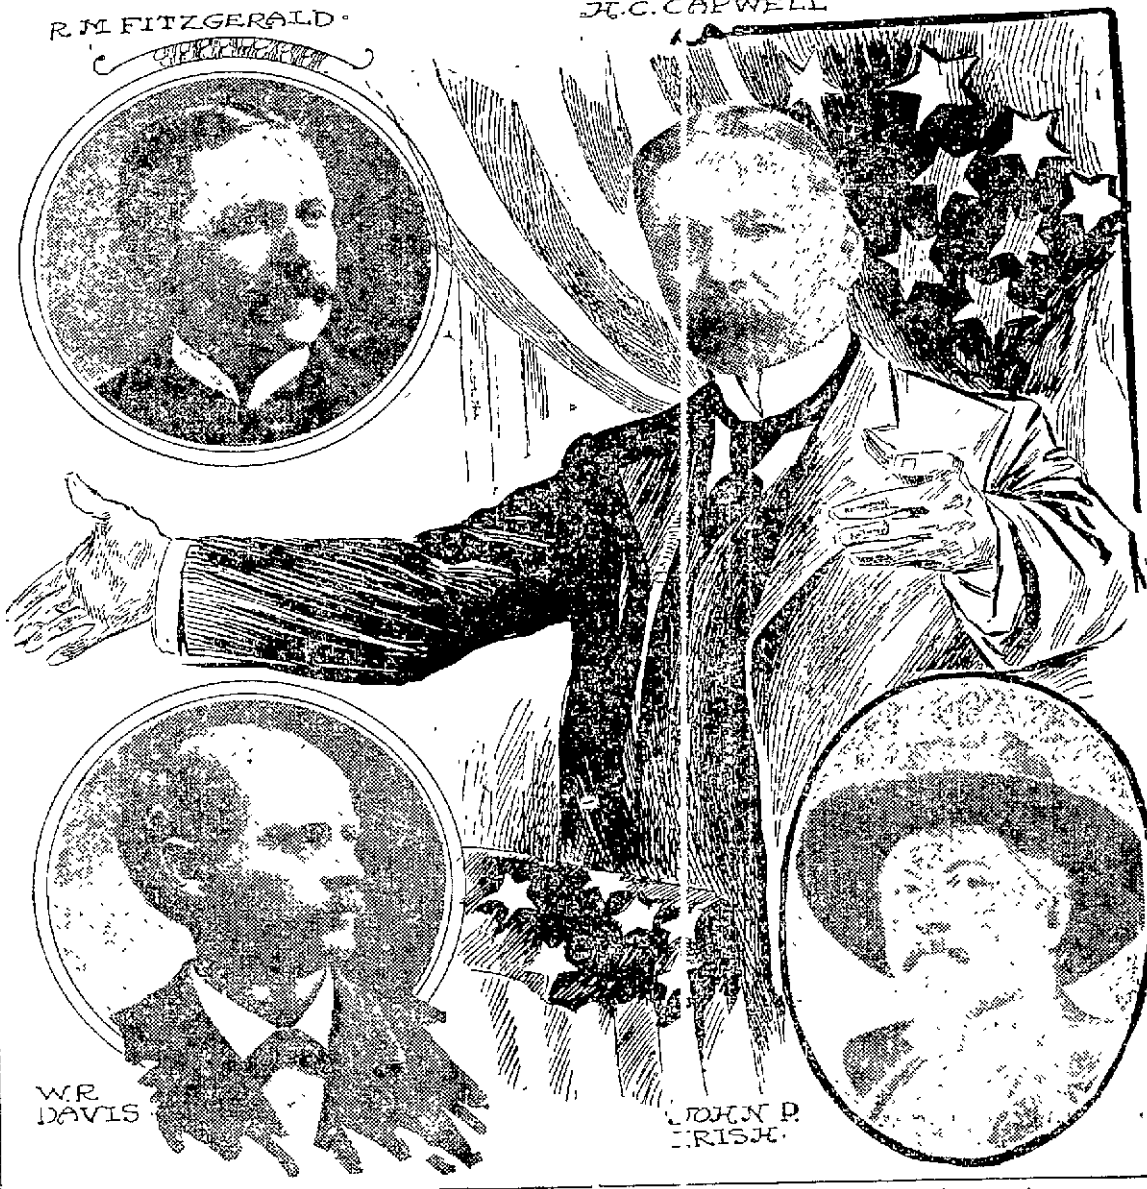

Greatest Enthusiasm Shown, and Each and Every Speaker Warmly Greeted by Earnest Listeners

ONE of the greatest protests, verging upon defiance, which has ever arisen in Alameda county, the mass meeting of its citizens which was held at Hamilton Hall last night voiced in the most forcible terms opposition to the attempt now being made by San Francisco through special acts and amendments in the State Legislature, to annex, without consent, portions of the communities on this side of the bay.

Present in the large hall were almost a thousand men and women, representing among them as much as $200,000,000 in capital and each one of them determined to resist to any extreme fulfillment of schemes that would, beyond a doubt, tend to disrupt the steady advancement of our commercial, industrial and political supremacy that seems the inevitable reward for the people who have maintained their faith in the undeveloped resources which abound on the continental shores of San Francisco bay. All was sincerity at the meeting, an earnest of self preservation being expressed by all who spoke and that the audience was imbued with the same spirit it was evoked by the manner in which they cheered and by the voiced un-

Prominent Oakland men who were among the speakers at last night's big meeting.

RESOLUTIONS AGAINST CONSOLIDATION WITH SAN FRANCISCO

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at the big mass meeting held last night in opposition to a possible consolidation of this city with San Francisco:

"Whereas, Amendments to the State Constitution are pending in the legislature having for their object the consolidation of a large part of Alameda county with San Francisco, and

"Whereas, One of said amendments proposes that said territory to be consolidated, including San Francisco, shall vote as a whole, the majority of the whole vote to decide, and

"Whereas, San Francisco having a majority of the whole vote, will have the power to make virtual conquest of the bay cities of Alameda county, regardless of the will and wish of their people, and in violation of the sacred principle that governments derive their powers from the consent of the governed, and

"Whereas, The second of said amendments provides that the municipal debt, bonded and otherwise, of San Francisco shall rest as a lien upon all of the territory and its taxpayers of the proposed consolidated district, now therefore, be it

"Resolved, By this assembly composed of representatives from all the cities and sections of Alameda county that said proposed constitutional amendments are un-American in principle, unjust in purpose and keenly antagonistic to the high interests of Alameda county and its cities;

"Resolved, That Oakland has no desire to over-ride her neighboring cities of Alameda and Berkeley, to annex them or to destroy their autonomy, but rather to furnish to them an example of civic enterprise, prosperity, commercial growth and greatness that will stimulate their individual efforts and enterprise to the same purposes, to the end that these east bay cities shall grow in an atmosphere of mutual enterprise and mutual respect, until they achieve such commercial greatness, density of population and volume of votes, as will enable them, fighting side by side, to defend their interests successfully against all efforts at conquest or propositions to load them with the debts of San Francisco.

"Resolved, That Oakland presents as reasons in opposition to this proposed consolidation and for the cheer of her neighboring cities in Alameda county, the record of her achievements and a statement of her purposes: At her own expense and that of her grantors, she is investing millions of dollars on her water front to provide most modern facilities for commerce, by docks built accessible by thirty feet of water, where ship and car can come together and commerce find the line of least resistance in the most economical handling and transfer. Oakland has under construction the finest municipal building in the United States, private enterprise is lining her streets with modern business buildings, manufacturers are seeking locations here and in Berkeley and Alameda, attracted by the facilities for transportation that are under way. Inland California and its producers have a vast interest in these commercial betterments, and yet the passage of the above proposed constitutional amendments means a cessation of these activities and arrest of this development, a decline in real estate values, a decrease in our volume of commerce and the further ebb of the commerce of San Francisco Bay to other Pacific harbors that have the convenience for commerce that we are installing here.

"Resolved, Therefore, as the sense of this meeting and of the people of this county that we ask the legislature not to pass these constitutional amendments or in any way put it in the power of the whole State to deprive Alameda county and its leading cities of the right of self-government."

audacity with which resolutions setting forth the principles upon which opposition is being made, were adopted."

The meeting was called to order by W. D. Gibson, member of the Chamber of Commerce and of other organizations which have been active in developing the county and that have had her interests constantly at heart. He was a member of the Alameda County Legislative Committee, appointed by Mayor Frank M. Bell some time ago to look after the interests of this county affected by all bills introduced in the Legislature.

Mayor's Address

"This meeting has been called to see whether or not Oakland is asleep at the switch," he said in his opening remarks, "for when you stop to take an inventory of what we are doing on this side of the bay, we do not feel that it will be of advantage to be annexed to the other side. While we are willing to aid San Francisco towards the upbuilding of that city, we are not willing that this city should surrender her rights of government."

"We cannot consent to be a minority stockholder in a great political corporation whose principal place of business and power of control lies beyond the confines of our county. We do not want to be forced to subsidize our great progress in the commercial and industrial activities that are already under way, which is rapidly bringing our city to the forefront among the great cities of the Pacific Coast."

Eulogizes Harbor

"We are located on the continental side of the bay, where ship and rail come together. We have one of the very few municipally owned and controlled harbors in the world. We have already voted millions of dollars to improve it. We are building a City Hall that would be a credit to any city in America. Sky-scrapers are going up all around us. Our public school system and public school buildings are unsurpassed in the United States. We are contemplating the building of a great auditorium. We have just adopted a new and modern charter, and our citizens are awake to the great possibilities of a great city on this side of the bay."

"We certainly do not want to give up these things to surrender our local self-government to the control and domination of any other city. We will give our hearty co-operation to San Francisco in all things that will tend to the upbuilding and future greatness of that city but we do not desire to be absorbed and to lose our identity and commercial prestige and independence. We would have everything to lose and nothing to gain."

Cheered F. M. Smith

"There is one man who has done more than any other for the upbuilding of this community," continued the chairman, "and I refer to Francis M. Smith, president of the United Properties Company, a $200,000,000 corporation formed to promote the interests of this county in particular."

SACRAMENTO MEETING HAS BEEN POSTPONED

Secretary Dennison of the Chamber of Commerce telephoned this morning from Sacramento to the effect that the meeting of the judiciary committee of both houses of the legislature which was set for tomorrow night, has been deferred until some time next week. The subject of annexation with San Francisco was to be discussed at the meeting, and as a consequence of the delay, the people of this city who intended to oppose the union of Oakland with San Francisco will have all the more time in which to make his opposition effective.

There was a call for three cheers and they were rendered with hearty emotion.

"Mr. Smith was unable to be present with us here tonight but we have his personal representative and now introduce to you Attorney Harmon Bell."

Harmon Bell said: "Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: I was much pleased at the opening of the evening to note that we had the press with us in this campaign and to know that they would be present when the first gun against this 'Wolfe' act was fired by the newspapers. This act is well named the 'Wolfe' act, and its name is a fair expression of its nature. It is an insidious scheme of acquiring what does not belong to the one who would take another's property for his own."

Lawyer's Opinion

"Let a lawyer take this bill and read it, and at the outset he will think it is pure and clearly expressed, but when he gets halfway through he will begin to be doubtful of its meaning and wording, and as he goes further he will become more and more doubtful until when he gets to the end he will turn back and read it over to discover just where the hideous meaning of the whole becomes clear. The one thing he can be certain of reading between the lines is that a municipality like San Francisco can vote us in as part of their corporate body entirely without appeal to us or without asking our consent. Now we are going to consent to any proceeding of this kind."

Bell was interrupted by loud cries of

"No!" from those present at this point in his address. After the necessary pause he resumed:

"We are gathered here tonight in a hall which is named Hamilton Hall named for one of the founders of our constitutional liberty, which is our pride. One of the first principles of a constitutional government is that the government is only powerful through the consent of the governed. Are we asked to give our consent in this case? No, and therefore this act strikes at our constitutional liberties."

Discusses Bill

"This Wolfe act does not propose a legitimate union between two contracting parties—it is not marriage, but rape—union by force, not by consent. I do not believe that the people of San Francisco, at least the large majority of them, would be willing to stand for any outrage like that. Suppose a young man wishes to marry a young lady—he goes very much in love with her, thinks he can't live without her, and writes to her in the most romantic and devoted manner, and she replies that she doesn't care for him, says she really despises him and finds him obnoxious and refuses him. What would you think of that young man if he insisted and said he would marry her by force if not otherwise?"

"That is what San Francisco proposes to do to us. I don't believe they really mean to carry out such a purpose. I don't believe that Senator Wolfe represents the people of San Francisco when he promulgates such doctrine. I do not believe that the majority of voters in the commonwealth would stand behind any such unwise measure, but I do believe that they would blush for it when they perceive its true significance."

Constitutional Rights

"We have a constitutional government behind us, which means the right to govern ourselves voluntarily. That is one of the basic principles involved in our government, which our nation has long cherished and supported. It means the right to govern our own affairs. This act does not provide for our consent to being annexed to San Francisco. To people who rule in this glorious country of ours and the few who live in this part of the country do not propose to stand for this unjust and unjust act."

Our Water Front

"There are other things to be considered when this proposed annexation is up for our consideration also. One of them is our water front, that has been to us our dearest possession, our most cherished privilege, our baby. We have spent millions of dollars to take care of our baby and nourish it so it may be a price and credit to us. We intend to spend many more millions on it and we want it to grow strong and sturdy and clutch at its share of the great commerce of the Pacific."

Applause swept through the hall at this statement and stopped the speaker for several minutes.

"We will not turn over our city and our waterfront to a neighbor six miles across the bay, separated from us by a body of water which is a natural and should be a perpetual line of demarcation."

Personal Appeal

"I am through now, as I do not wish to take up any more time, for we have other speakers here tonight and we want to hear from every one of them. I am here tonight to represent some of the largest interests on this side of the bay, as well as to represent myself in this matter in which I have a vital interest. As I was born in Oakland and have spent most of the years of my life here—and I do not believe that this act represents the sentiment of the really important interests either in San Francisco or Oakland."

"We have created the government in Sacramento and we are entitled to look to them to represent us fully and fairly in this matter, and I believe they will give us fairness, justice and protection. They will not bow to the will of others and will not to a measure which has proved itself to the citizens of Oakland as abhorrent in every respect."

Capwell's Plea

H. C. Capwell was the next speaker, and when his name was mentioned by Chairman Gibson it was cheered to the echo. He said in part:

"The Wolfe bill is a counterfeit and when such bills are passed it nearly always makes trouble for some one, and that is what we don't want—and we won't have it. I appreciate Mr. Bell's good feeling towards San Francisco, but I differ with him when he says that he does not believe that San Francisco will come over here and take us in if she can, with this baby waterfront of ours. We who have had great trouble to keep our own are not going to submit to the aggressive greed of our neighbor across the bay. The waterfront is Oakland's most magnificent child, which she has nurtured to its present greatness and future greatness."

"San Francisco is willing to go into the kidnapping business, who else are we going to let her? Annexation is a poor policy for any community to follow and I may say that I am now consistent with my conduct during the Berkeley annexation campaign. I never was in favor of taking in Berkeley and I know that the people of Berkeley are not in favor of the matter. It was not the majority who signed the petition, but the minority who signed the petition brought annexation petitions into Oakland and we had to take notice of them. We were not the aggressive ones. It is San Francisco's policy."

Bill Is Bad

"There are many angles to this Wolfe bill and they are all entirely as bad as they have been painted. We in Oakland want none of it. It is an argument to say that if the bill is allowed to go through it would probably be defeated by our voters despite the fact that some of the com-
